When Seconds Count, Count on Video Alarm Verification

A Higher Level of Protection for Your Home, Family and Valuables

Picture What Video Alarm Verification Can Do

When an alarm is real, every second counts. With video alarm verification, video clips are sent to you and your central monitoring station when an alarm is tripped – helping to determine event severity and arm first responders with the information they need to act quickly.

- Can alert authorities to potentially dangerous situations prior to arrival onsite
- Video clips may help identify perpetrators when burglaries and break-ins occur and aid in apprehension, prosecution, and recovery of stolen valuables
- Camera access is restricted to authorized personnel during an alarm event and is inaccessible after 20 minutes – helping to ensure a higher level of privacy
- Know what's going on at your home during an alarm with alerts and look-in capability via your Resideo Total Connect Remote Services account
- Searchable video clip and image library with high-capacity cloud and email storage options
- Meets all local municipality alarm verification requirements
